

Give back and make a difference!

Often people who express an interest in volunteering start out saying something like this:

“I want to make a difference in the lives of children.”

“I want to give back to the community.”

After volunteering with the children at Up On Top, very soon they're saying: “I am not just giving back to the community. It is making a big difference in my own life, too.”

Wendy Nguyen, an employee at Wells Fargo Bank, volunteers at Up On Top using her love for science as an opportunity to give back to her community. Here she is in the photo to the left working with an Up On Top student.

Forget boring lectures and pop quizzes, Wendy says her curriculum is based on what the kids express an interest in, which keeps them more engaged. One of her recent science lessons was teaching kids about the freezing point of ice cream!

For Wendy, volunteering at Up On Top has been a perfect fit. “I can give back to my community, while teaching kids that science is fun!”

Volunteering at Up On Top can be a perfect fit for YOU too!

Every summer Up On Top offers an eight-week summer camp. We are now planning to make this a truly wonderful summer for the children. Volunteers are a major part of this.

Can you see yourself in one of these pictures? If you have some free time this summer and you want to make a difference in the lives of the children, go to our website at www.upontop.org and click on VOLUNTEER.
